

Are you able to help finish WiNSpace

With funding now fully identified for the new building, we are looking for those finishing touches. There has been a fantastic response from the community to get us this far, but we are now on our final ask. If you have ever thought you would like to donate to the new community building, now is a great time to do so. As we all know when you move into a new house, there are a lot of additional items you need to get, and that's where WiNSpace is now. The list below gives you an idea of what items we are looking for and the estimated costs – Are you able to help?
